

10 Homes, Compared

Ranked Against What You Told Me Matters Most

Prepared for Algernon Carter | September 25, 2026 | Baltimore, MD

What You Told Me Matters Most

- A yard
- A basement
- Parking for 4 cars
- 1,800 to 2,000+ square feet
- 3 to 4 bedrooms, and if it's only 3, a basement he can realistically finish into a 4th

You also want to stay in Baltimore County, not the City. Every property below is checked against all five, and the 4 City addresses you sent are included at the end for completeness, not ranked against your list.

The Field, at a Glance

#	Address	County / City	Price	Beds	Sq Ft	Basement	Parking

—	2913 Oakhill Ave	Baltimore City	$370,000	4	2,500	Finished	Off street
—	5522 Bosworth Ave	Baltimore City	$369,900	4	2,187	Finished	On street

*Two figures shown where the MLS square footage and the county tax record disagree, worth confirming before an offer.

The 6 in Baltimore County, Ranked

Best fit to your list first.

35 Glenwood Ave

East Catonsville · Baltimore County · 3 bed, 2 bath, 1,803 sq ft · built 1926, remodeled 2007

$330,000

$30,000 under your approval

Lot	6,969 sq ft
Basement	Unfinished, rear entrance, waterproofing system, 816 sq ft
Parking	4 total spaces: 1-car detached garage plus 3 more off street
Listed	1 day ago, open house Saturday 9/26, 2:00 to 4:00 PM
Condition	As-is. Recently replaced Pella windows, hardwood floors, a rear addition second living room. Description says it could use a little love, reads as cosmetic, not a gut job

How it stacks up against your list:

- Parking: the only listing that spells out 4 total spaces, exactly what you need
- Basement: unfinished, but it's there to finish into a 4th bedroom
- Size: 1,803 sq ft, right at the low end of your 1,800 to 2,000+ range
- Bedrooms: 3 now, with the basement as your path to a 4th
- Yard: not explicitly described in the listing, worth confirming in person

Flag: The online Zestimate is $404,500, about $75,000 above the asking price. That's an unusually large gap, worth finding out why before assuming it's simply underpriced.

Verdict: Best match on paper for parking and price cushion. Tour it at Saturday's open house if the timing works.

3706 Parkfield Rd

Pikesville (Courthaven) · Baltimore County · 4 bed, 2 bath, 2,100 sq ft · built 1961, remodeled 2025

$360,000

At your approval, but seller offers a 2% credit

Lot	8,360 sq ft, cul-de-sac, beautifully landscaped
Basement	Partially finished 2024: bedroom 4 (252 sq ft), family room, and a full bath with a walk-in shower, all engineered wood flooring
Parking	2 off-street spaces, concrete driveway
Condition	Excellent, major remodel 2025: updated kitchen with stainless appliances, all appliances 2 years old or less, roof 5 years old
Seller offer	2% credit toward buyer's closing costs, points, or prepaids
Price history	Cut about $11,000 around Sept 10, 42 days on market

How it stacks up against your list:

- Yard: yes, landscaped, cul-de-sac lot
- Basement: already finished into bedroom 4 plus a family room and full bath, done in 2024, not a future project
- Size: 2,100 sq ft total fits your range
- Bedrooms: 4, already there, no conversion needed
- Parking: 2 spaces confirmed, short of the 4 you want

Flag: Only 2 parking spaces on a concrete driveway. Confirm whether street parking nearby is realistic for the other 2 cars before counting on this one for your parking need.

Verdict: Strong on everything except parking. The finished basement, the condition, and the 2% seller credit toward closing costs make this one worth a serious look despite sitting right at your approval.

3655 Forest Garden Ave*Lochearn / Villa Nova · Baltimore County · 3 bed, 2.5 bath, ~2,000 sq ft · built 1951$359,999At your approval, no cushion*

Lot	8,550 sq ft, level, cul-de-sac
Basement	Finished: rec room, full bath, kitchenette, previously used as an in-law suite
Listed	Open house Sunday 9/27, 12:00 to 2:00 PM
Price history	Started at $435,000 in Oct 2025, pulled, briefly relisted at $370,000 in May 2026, now $359,999 since Aug 13, a 17% cumulative cut

How it stacks up against your list:

- Yard: level backyard, confirmed
- Basement: already finished with its own bath and kitchenette, turning it into a 4th bedroom is close to done, not a project
- Size: fits your 1,800 to 2,000+ range
- Bedrooms: 3 above grade plus the finished suite downstairs
- Parking: not specified in the listing, confirm before writing an offer

Flag: A 17% cut over 13 months with multiple relistings says there's room to negotiate below $359,999, not a reason to avoid it, but ask the listing agent directly why it hasn't sold yet before touring.

Verdict: Real contender, but Parkfield now beats it on condition and comes with a seller credit.

5412 W North Ave*Gwynn Oak · Baltimore County · 5 bed, 2 bath, 1,626 sq ft finished · built 1921$335,000$25,000 under your approval*

Lot	6,000 sq ft
Basement	Unfinished, 1,000+ sq ft, walkout with laundry, storage/workshop condition
Price history	Cut from $349,000 to $335,000 on Sept 17
Condition	Cape Cod, no updated/renovated language in the listing; laminate and carpet flooring

How it stacks up against your list:

- Yard: fenced, level yard confirmed
- Basement: large and unfinished, real potential but real renovation cost to make it usable
- Size: 1,626 sq ft finished is under your 1,800 to 2,000+ target as-is
- Bedrooms: already 5, more than your 3 to 4 want
- Parking: not specified in the listing

Flag: Making the basement count toward bedrooms or square footage means real renovation money, which cuts against wanting to keep cash free for that.

Verdict: Good price cushion, but the extra space you'd need to hit your size target isn't free.

2909 Louisiana Ave*Halethorpe (Rosemont) · Baltimore County · 4 bed, 2 bath, 2,013 sq ft · built 1935$369,900$9,900 over your approval*

Lot	5,000 sq ft
Basement	Finished walkout: 4th bedroom, 2nd full bath, rec room, laundry
Sq ft note	MLS shows 2,013 sq ft, the county tax record shows 1,629 sq ft, confirm which the appraisal will use
Price history	4 separate listing cycles since Oct 2025, cumulative $30,000 in cuts despite being marketed as fully renovated
Area	Near BWI / Lansdowne, a different submarket than everywhere else on this list

How it stacks up against your list:

- Basement: already finished into a legitimate 4th bedroom with its own bath, the best match on paper
- Size: fits your range on the MLS number, falls short on the tax record number
- Bedrooms: 4, already there

Flag: Over your approval by $9,900, which matters given you want to keep cash to close low.

Flag: Relisted four times in under a year with real price cuts is a pattern that often means a past appraisal or inspection problem. Ask the listing agent directly before touring.

Verdict: Checks the most boxes on paper, but the price and the listing history are real reasons for caution.

7165 Fairbrook Rd*Windsor Mill · Baltimore County · 3 bed, 2 bath (1 full, 1 half), 1,504 sq ft · built 1971$325,000$35,000 under your approval*

Lot	10,080 sq ft (0.23 acre)
Basement	None, single-level ranch on a slab
Condition	Beautifully updated: LVP flooring throughout, updated kitchen, ensuite half bath in the primary

How it stacks up against your list:

- Yard: yes, a genuinely sized lot
- Price: the cheapest and most move-in ready of the group

Flag: No basement at all, so there's nowhere to add a 4th bedroom the way you planned.

Flag: 1,504 sq ft is well under your 1,800 to 2,000+ target with no way to add space.

Verdict: Good price and condition can't make up for two must-haves it structurally can't deliver.

4 Baltimore City Addresses, Unranked

You told me you want to stay in the County, so these aren't scored against your list. Included so you have the full picture.

5211 Bosworth Ave

Howard Park · Baltimore City · 4 bed, 3 bath

$325,000

Asking, not yet fully listed

Status	Compass "Coming Soon," no photos or showings scheduled yet
Sq ft	2,008 (MLS) / 1,845 (tax record)
Built	1926

How it stacks up against your list:

Verdict: Not enough here yet to evaluate. Revisit once it's actually active.

5502 Fernpark Ave

Howard Park · Baltimore City · 5 bed, 3 bath, 2,184 sq ft · built 1923

$365,000

$5,000 over your approval

Basement	Finished: den/bedroom, full bath, laundry, rec room
Parking	Detached 2-car garage
Listed	11 days, no price cuts, the cleanest history of anything on this list
Worth checking	The listing mentions possible eligibility for around $30,000 or more in homebuyer grant assistance, subject to buyer and program eligibility

How it stacks up against your list:

Verdict: If the grant program applies to you, this is worth a call to your lender regardless of the City/County preference, it could close the gap on price by itself.

2913 Oakhill Ave

Howard Park · Baltimore City · 4 bed, 3 bath, 2,500 sq ft · built 1923, remodeled 2022

$370,000

$10,000 over your approval

Basement	Finished, counted in the 2,500 total
Yard	Fully fenced, level, with a deck and patio
Condition	"Very good," quartz counters, custom cabinetry, stainless appliances

How it stacks up against your list:

Verdict: Nicely updated, but over your approval on top of being in the City.

5522 Bosworth Ave

Baltimore City · 4 bed, 3 bath, 2,187 sq ft · built 1955

$369,900

$9,900 over your approval

Basement	Finished, 100% of 882 sq ft
Parking	On street only
Listed	17 days

How it stacks up against your list:

- The listing photos are virtually staged, meaning the home will not look like the pictures in person.

Verdict: Skip unless the City preference changes, and confirm the real condition in person either way.

Bottom line. Tour 35 Glenwood Ave and 3706 Parkfield Rd first. Glenwood wins on parking and price cushion, Parkfield wins on condition and already has a finished 4th bedroom plus a 2% seller credit toward closing costs, its only real gap is 2 parking spaces instead of 4. Forest Garden Ave is right behind both. Fairbrook Rd and the four City addresses are worth knowing about, but none of them get you what you told me you need without giving something up.

ASSUMPTIONS

Prices, square footage, and listing details are from Bright MLS via public listing pages (Zillow, Redfin), pulled September 2026, and are subject to change. Square footage and condition claims are as the listing describes them, not independently verified. Loan approval, VA appraisal requirements, and any grant program eligibility should be confirmed with your lender before writing an offer.
